ACADEMIC CUSTOMS AND DRESS

The origins of many customs of the academic world are to be traced to the Middle Ages, particularly the eleventh and twelfth centuries when the first European universities – Bologna, Paris, and Oxford – were founded.

In their original organization, the universities were like medieval corporations or guilds. In fact the word “universitas” originally referred to any kind of corporation. The students at the universities were equated to guild apprentices, and so the completion of the apprenticeship was celebrated by a “commencement” marking the beginning of their careers.

In the twelfth century, everyone wore gowns. The social and economic status of an individual was shown by the extra features, such as fur trimming, on the gowns. Cloaks with hoods were worn over gowns for protection in bad weather. Degrees began to be awarded in the thirteenth century, and different styles of gowns and different colors came to represent the various degrees and disciplines.

Over the centuries the styles of dress changed, and by the seventeenth century, the wearing of gowns by men had virtually ceased. But the universities, particularly those in Britain, continued to be conservative and strict in the manner of academic customs and dress. At Oxford, for instance, candidates for master’s degrees had to swear that they owned a gown and would always wear it at the proper times.

The first American universities were founded on English models. However, the wearing of academic dress was not universal and ceased during the Civil War. The custom was revived in the late nineteenth century, and in 1895 an academic custom code was adopted which, with modifications, is still used.

Most American universities have the standard black gown with the hood serving to distinguish the individual institution. Some American and European universities have adopted or preserved more distinctive gowns. There are three styles of gowns, distinguished mainly by the sleeves: the bachelor’s gown, with long, pointed sleeves; the master’s, with a squared sleeve, cut so the forearm is free; the doctoral, with bell-shaped sleeves with three velvet bands.

The hood is the really distinguishing feature of modern gowns, indicating the degree (the width of the edging band), the discipline (the color of the band) and the college or university (the colors of the lining). Today’s graduates have hoods edged in white (B.A., MALS), gold (B.S., BLS), drab (BPS, MBA), or light blue (M.Ed., M.S.). Many faculty members will have blue edging indicating the Ph.D. degree. The faculty will be wearing hoods representing many distinguished institutions of higher education, e.g., orange and maroon for Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, red and black for Rutgers University, orange and white for the The University of Tennessee, blue and gray for Georgetown University, and navy blue and orange for the University of Virginia.

This honor, by action of the Board of Visitors, is bestowed this year upon a distinguished member of the faculty.

J. William Kemp, Jr.
Professor of English

Professor William Kemp joined the faculty of the University of Mary Washington in 1970, after earning his B.A. from Millsaps College in 1964, his M.A. from Mississippi State University in 1967, and his Ph.D. from the University of South Carolina in 1970. A specialist in Shakespeare and Renaissance drama, Dr. Kemp has also taught a wide variety of courses in linguistics, film studies, literature in performance, and literary theory. His dedication to teach was rewarded in 2000 with the Grellet C. Simpson Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching. During his 35-year tenure at the University, Dr. Kemp's other responsibilities included the development of the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies, extensive consulting with other colleges and universities focusing on the liberal arts, and chairing a wide variety of faculty committees. He also served as chair of the department of English, Linguistics and Speech for several terms. He brought grants to the University, one in particular that focused on computer literacy, anticipating the explosion of technology and its value to the curriculum by 20 years. In addition to such extensive service to the institution, Dr. Kemp has led a vigorous scholarly life. Publications include his critical edition of Marston's The Wonder of Women, or The Tragedie of Sophonisba, and several other scholarly articles and reviews, and he has delivered more than 50 scholarly papers at conferences on a wide variety of subjects. He plans to continue his scholarly work after his retirement; his current projects focus on film adaptations of Shakespeare and Jane Austen.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

AMBASSADOR ROSE M. LIKINS

Rose M. Likins received her Bachelor of Arts degree, magna cum laude, from Mary Washington College in 1981, having majored in Spanish and International Affairs. While at Mary Washington she was selected for membership in both Phi Beta Kappa and Mortar Board honor societies.

Upon graduation from Mary Washington, Ms. Likins joined the Foreign Service in June, 1981. She has served overseas as a consular officer at the U.S. Consulate General in Monterrey, Mexico; as chief of the political section at the U.S. Embassy in Asuncion, Paraguay; and as Deputy Chief of Mission at the U.S. Embassy in Sofia, Bulgaria. From August 2000 to June 2003, Ms. Likins served as the United States Ambassador to the Republic of El Salvador.

In Washington, Ms. Likins has served in the (then) Bureau of Human Rights and Humanitarian Affairs, the Bureau of Intelligence and Research, as the Honduras desk officer, as Special Assistant to the Deputy Secretary of State, as Executive Assistant to the Under Secretary of Global Affairs, as Director of the Department's Operations Center, as Deputy Executive Secretary of the Department, and, currently, as Acting Assistant Secretary for the Bureau of Political-Military Affairs.

Ms. Likins has been awarded the State Department's Meritorious and Superior Honor awards on several occasions. She was also awarded the Horsemen of Madara medal by the Government of Bulgaria in July 1997, and the Order of Francisco Delgado by the Government of El Salvador in June 2003. She is a member of the American Foreign Service Association.

THE EAGLE PIPE BAND

Performing at today's commencement ceremony is the Eagle Pipe Band. The band was formed in 1997 with a small combination of Mary Washington students and members of the Fredericksburg community. It has grown steadily each year, adding pipers, drummers and dancers.

Of special interest and great pride, the Eagle Pipe Band was founded by, and is under the direction of, Dr. Raymond B. Scott, Professor of Chemistry at the University of Mary Washington. Performers at today's ceremony include students at the University of Mary Washington as well as members of the greater Fredericksburg community. The tartan worn by the performers was designed by the University to match the school colors, and is registered in Scotland's official registry of tartans.

ALMA MATER

All hail, dear Alma Mater,
We sing our praise to you.
High on Marye's Hilltop
You stand forever true;
Born in truth and honor
You ever more shall be,
The model of our future years
And all eternity.

Whene'er we have to leave you
We never will forget,
The lessons you have taught us,
And all the friends we've met;
And we your sons and daughters
Will hold your name on high,
So here's to Mary Washington;
Our love will never die.
